

DEPAUW LOSES TO THE QUAKERS

EARLHAM SCORES THIRTEEN POINTS WHILE THE METH-ODISTS ARE ABLE TO GET ONLY ONE FIELD GOAL—FIRST QUARTER DISASTROUS TO OLD GOLD PLAYERS.

ROWAN SAVES A SHUT-OUT

RICHMOND, Ind., Nov. 23.—For first time in the history of Reid Field Earlham beat DePauw here today, 13 to 3. The game was fast and exciting, and at no time until the last whistle blew was either team sure of victory. The game consisted of the new-style football to a great extent, but both teams resorted to line plunging several times during the game. There were no serious injuries in the game and very few penalties, so it was played in record time.

Each team made one substitution. DePauw won the toss and took the advantage of the wind. Brownell kicked to DePauw's thirty-yard line. Grady returned the ball eight yards, then Earlham held them for downs and Rowan kicked to Brownell, who ran the entire Methodist team for Earlham's first marker. The Quakers gave him a perfect interference. Earlham kicked to DePauw again, and, after DePauw had made 2 first downs Earlham held them for downs. By a series of end runs, Earlham had advanced the ball to DePauw fifteen-yard line, and, after three unsuccessful attempts at the line, Bogue dropped back for a place kick, but instead of kicking it threw to Capt. Guyer who already across DePauw's goal line. Bogue failed to kick goal and the quarter ended: Earlham, 13; DePauw, 9.

DePauw Takes a Brace.

DePauw came back strong in the second quarter and by use of two trick plays worked the ball to Earlham's twenty-two-yard line where Rowan booted the ball over the bar for the Old Gold's only score. Earlham received the kickoff and worked the ball steadily down the field and was on DePauw's twenty-yard line when the half ended. DePauw received the kickoff and in three minutes worked the ball down to Earlham's five-yard line. The Quakers held four downs straight and Brownell booted the ball out of danger. The rest of the game Earlham clearly outclassed the visitors and the ball was in their territory the remainder of the game. Bogue left for the Quakers, was easily the star of the game and clearly outclassed any of the visitors. Murray at guard and Capt. Guyer were Earlham's other bright lights. Capt. Tucker and Rowan played best for the visitors. Coach Cunningham of DePauw said after the game that his team was simply outclassed by the Quakers. Earlham had the largest bonfire they have had in years tonight. All of the team made short speeches and several of the old grid-iron stores of past conflicts. Lineup and summary:

ELECT DIRECTORS FOR CREAMERY

SEVEN STOCKHOLDERS ARE CHOSEN AT MEETING SATURDAY AFTERNOON TO LOOK AFTER THE BUSINESS OF THE NEW BUTTER MAKING PLANT.

ELECT OFFICERS TODAY

At a meeting of the stockholders of the new creamery held in the assembly room of the court house Saturday afternoon, Earl Ellis, William Howell, Miss Bessie Jones, S. A. Hazlett and John Detrick—representing the out-townships—and R. A. Oke and W. P. Sackett—representing the town—were elected directors of the new creamery plant. These directors met this morning in the city library and elected officers.

The meeting Saturday afternoon was well attended, virtually all of the stockholders being present. Mr. Williams, who represented the firm which furnished the machinery for the plant, was present and talked for an hour or more on the creamery business, giving the stockholders some good advice about running the plant.

During the afternoon, the building committee reported that the plant had been constructed and equipped according to specifications and plans, and the plant was accepted by the stockholders. Saturday morning the plant was operated and more than 75 pounds of butter was made from the cream which the stockholders brought in. The machinery in the plant worked perfectly and an excellent quality of butter was produced.

ELECTION COST TO 3 PARTIES

REPUBLICANS FILE STATEMENT SHOWING THAT $281.19 WAS EXPENDED BY COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE—PROH'S SPENT $9.15.

COST MOOSERS $172.61

The election expense account of three parties have been filed with County Clerk Arthur J. Hamrick. The Republican County Central Committee report today by Chairman Charley Zeis, shows that $371. was collected and that $281.19 was expended. There is a balance in the treasury of $89.81. A. O. Lockridge is the largest donator to the Republican fund, having given $100. Arthur Reat was the only other man to give a large amount, his donation being $50.

The report of the Prohi party shows that $9.95 was collected and that $9.15 was expended, leaving a balance of 80 cents in the treasury.

The Bull Moose report shows $173.75 collected and $172.61 expended. This leaves a balance of $1.14 in the treasury of that party. No large donations were given either the Bull Moose or Prohi parties.

The Republican candidates for office in Putnam county spent only $51.50 for campaign expenses according to their reports filed this morning with County Clerk Arthur J. Hamrick. And the $51.50 was spent by two men, the other candidates reporting that they spent no money at all in their campaign.

County Treasurer Arthur Reat reported that he gave the Republican Central Committee $50., while L. A. Dicks spent $1.50 for campaign cards. These are the only reports of expenditures made by the Republican candidates.

Other reports show that John McCabe, Democrat, spent $55. in his campaign for Representative; Witt Sutherland, Democrat, spent $43. in his race for commissioner, and J. L. Bridges, Progressive candidate for commissioner, spent $5. Dick Crouch in his report says he did not spend a cent as a Progressive candidate for Prosecutor.

BRAZIL IS BOOSTING OCEAN-TO-OCEAN ROAD.

For the purpose of having Brazil and Clay county on the route of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway, a meeting of Clay county citizens will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the B. P. O. Elks Club rooms Monday evening. Brazil must boost for this road for if the various communities on the north route known as the Overland Trail do not show the spirit of wanting and encouraging the road one of the two northern routes, the Seattle or San Francisco routes will be chosen. Hence, it is important that many citizens get out Monday evening and boost the southern trail boosters in the local meeting.

N. M. Mendenhall was called up by telephone from Plainfield yesterday evening by the members of the Los Angeles Times ocean-to-ocean tour and asked to arrange the meeting. The Los Angeles people, of course, are anxious that the southern or Overland trail route be selected since that city will be the western terminal. Brazil should be an enthusiastic booster of the highway as the Los Angeles people are in proportion to the size of the two cities. The ocean-to-ocean highway is not a dream of the future, but will doubtless become an existing thing next year and the necessity for immediate action and effective boosting for the southern trail is evident.

MERCURY DUE TO SINK TO 20 DEGREES TODAY

Information given out by the Government Weather Bureau today, indicated that the mercury probably will drop as low as 20 degrees above zero by night. The lowest temperature yesterday was at 8 o'clock in the morning when the mercury registered 25 degrees above zero. At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the temperature had risen to 36 degrees, the highest during the day, and after standing at that point for an hour began to fall. At 7 o'clock last evening the mercury stood at 34 degrees and was falling rapidly.

A thirty-mile wind prevailed throughout the day, increasing the unpleasantness. The wind was from the southwest in the morning, but began to shift at noon and by evening was blowing steadily from the northwest.

A snowfall that had almost the intensity of a storm swept Greencastle in the morning. The flakes began falling shortly after 5 o'clock and continued intermittently until almost noon. It was the first real snowfall this season.

Of Interest to Women Readers

MAKES SLIM FIGURES.

Boned Undergarment Keeps Billows; Flesh Within Bounds.

What with banting, rolling, dieting and performing all sorts of acrobatic and unpleasant tasks, the life of the stout woman has recently been a sad one. Rubber underwear and marvelous corsets have been advertised in profusion and now comes a Calliope woman with an undergarment that is designed to aid in the war against fat. This garment is a two-section fair, boned from the waist up to the armpits and down over the hips. The advantage of this boned part is that when the garment is drawn in tight with the drawing at the waist, it compresses the superfluous flesh just as a corset would do with the additional advantage of fitting closer to the body than a corset. A woman wearing such an undergarment, too, would be able to dispense with a corset, thereby acquiring greater freedom of movement and having a more slender appearance by reason of having fewer layers of clothing on.

The Useful Side Pocket.

Housekeepers will appreciate a gift of a side pocket to be worn about the morning tasks. So equipped, a demand for purse or key does not mean a trip up stairs or a wild search.

While leather pockets can be bought for such uses they do not quite fill the need for house wear, as they flop around and rub the skirt.

A pocket such as tailors wear, but more artistic, will prove convenient. This is made of heavy, smooth cloth in envelope shape, and stitched on the machine. Cut a strip of cloth twelve inches long and five inches wide. Fold up the end to the depth of two and one-eighth inches from top to make the pocket. Slope the edge beyond the pocket into a point, like the flap of an envelope. This point is provided with a buttonhole to fasten to the belt.

The pocket part should have buttons and buttonholes or patent clasps along the upper edge. Though deep enough not to drop the contents, it is often convenient to close the top when working actively.

The edges of the bag may be finished in several ways. When making it for one's own use the edges may be pinked, and the turned up parts stitched on the machine. When intended as a gift elaboration is preferred. If pinking is liked, a line of braid stitching can be run around the bag with in the line of pinking. This can be worked in a contrasting color, and a monogram in the same color can be embroidered in the center.

Again, the edges can be neatly bound with heavy satin ribbon or a fine silk braid. This usually looks better in self tones, the monogram being the one touch of color.

Child a Botanic Genius.

Millie Snow, a daughter of a farm laborer, exhibited no fewer than 101 specimens of wild flowers at a flower show in Halberton, England. She is only 15 years old, still her knowledge of wild flowers in England is surpassed by only a few experts who have given their lives to the study. The child is credited with a genius for nature study, and is being encouraged to follow her bent. She was awarded a special medal, in addition to the valuable prize she won, for the finest wild flower exhibit. Many children had wild flowers on show, but none of them approached that of little Millie, which had both quantity and quality. It was found also she had labeled all of the 101 specimens without an error.

To Perfume the Hair.

One of the latest aids to beauty is the perfumed nightcap. This is very much like the cap worn by our grandmothers, but on a much more elaborate scale, being made of silk or very fine muslin, trimmed with filmy lace. Cunningly concealed in the cap is a tiny receptacle for scent, and when worn it leaves a delicate perfume clinging to the hair. It need not necessarily be kept for night wear alone; if it is put on for half an hour or so before dinner the perfume will cling to the hair for the remainder of the evening.

Shirtwaist Hint.

If a shirtwaist has to be raised at the shoulder, take pattern and lay a small tuck across the back and front at center armhole. This will leave original shoulder and neck, and will not pucker as if you take up shoulder after it has been cut.

EXPLAINING THE MENU.

Why It Was Made Comprehensive on Certain Days.

An Easterner on his way to California was delayed by the floods in Kansas and was obliged to spend the night in a humble hotel—the best in the town. The bill of fare at dinner time was not very elaborate, but the traveler noticed with joy that at the bottom of the card, printed with pen and ink, was a startling variety of pies.

He liked pies, and there were custard, lemon, squash, rhubarb, Washington, chocolate, mince, apple and berry pies and several other varieties. He called the waitress to him.

"Please get me some rhubarb pie," said he.

"I'm afraid we ain't got any rhubarb pie," she drawled.

He took another look at the list. "Well, get me some squash pie, please."

"We haven't got that either."

"Berry pie?"

"No."

"Lemon pie?"

"No."

"Chocolate pie?"

"I'm sorry, we—"

"Well, what on earth are they all written down here for? On to-day's bill of fare, too!"

"Well, I'll tell you," said the girl, apologetically. "That list is always written down there for show when we have mince pie, because when we have mince pie no one asks for anything else."

Good Business.

A writer who spends his summers at the seashore tells the following story: An ignorant countryman who saw the sea for the first time, was much impressed with the effect of the blue water, and asked a fisherman if he could tell him the owner, as he would like to buy a gallon to take home to his wife. The fisherman replied promptly.

"Us, me man—we own it!"

"Land's sakes!" exclaimed the rustic. "Could you sell me a gallon for fifty cents?"

"Sure," said the fisherman; and he disappeared, returning in a few minutes with a jar of water, for which he received the countryman's fifty cents.

The latter departed with his purchase. Returning later in the day after the tide had gone out, he gazed in silent wonder at the water, which had receded far from the beach.

"Lumme!" he exclaimed, "don't they do a trade!"

A Puzzler.

A teacher in a western public school was giving her class the first lesson in subtraction. "Now in order to subtract," she explained, "things have to be always of the same denomination. For instance, we couldn't take three apples from four pears nor six horses from nine dogs."

A hand went up in the back of the room.

"Teacher," shouted a small boy, "can't you take four quarts of milk from three cows?"

LIVING IN LUXURY.

Jobson-Dickins, who married Miss Milyuns, is leading a dog's life. Dobson—Was the marriage an unhappy one?

Jobson—On the contrary, he replaces her pet poodle.

Dying Made Easy.

One of the modern schemes of physical development that has won favor is a systematic method of breathing. A certain inquirer who was interested in the principles of this system recently wrote to one of its professors for a descriptive pamphlet. One of the rules on the first page read as follows:

"After the morning bath take a deep breath, retain it as long as possible, then slowly expire."

He decided not to try the system.

Not In That Line.

A man driving in the country lost a nut off his wagon wheel. Meeting an Italian, he asked him if he had a monkey wrench. The indignant Italian wrathfully replied, "Me so keep a monkey wrench, me keep a sheep ranch."

At the Sign of the Tattler.

"Have the Perrys any cook now?" "I'll find out for you from Mrs. Smith. She belongs to the O-r-re-ent Events Club, and knows just what's happening."

ROADS AND ROADMAKING

CURING SICK ROADS.

A Physician Treated a Small Section at His Own Expense.

I need not count them up; any thoughtful country person can imagine a large number, if not all, of the discomforts the busy country physician is subjected to in traveling up and down the ordinary country roads. I have never heard of any of them getting "liver grown," whatever that may be, although I have known some who have had to be under continual expense to the carriage doctor for the cure of rickets in wagons, buggies, etc.

We have a doctor in East Lampeter who got tired of bad roads, especially of one section over which he was obliged to rattle daily. He asked that the road be repaired and it was not done. Then he had the work done at his own expense and according to his own notions. But he made the grave mistake of not obtaining the permission of the road supervisors to turn one of the worst roads in the county into one of the best at his own expense. A keen Lancaster lawyer found for the supervisors an old fool, lay saying a private citizen may not take such revolutionary liberties, and Dr. Donald McCaskey, of East Lampeter Township, in the great red rose county of Lancaster, was haled into court for trespassing upon the prerogatives of the township supervisors.

The good road work the doctor had done and was doing with his drag appealed to many of his fellow taxpayers and road users, and two factions grew up in the township—one for and one against the doctor. People inside and outside the township began to laugh about the suit brought against a public spirited private citizen who had spent his own money for the public good. The newspapers over the state made comments. The suit has been allowed to lie in court or die there, and the undaunted doctor has kept his drag going. Then his fellow citizens concluded if he could doctor and cure a little road he could do a lot more of it, and they elected the doctor road supervisor—one of three—with the split drag the main plank in the platform.

One of the doctor's first official moves was to buy some thirty drag, and put them in the hands of as many dependable farmers, with their jobs cut out for them—from one-half to one mile of road; never more than a mile. For the dragging of his allotment each man is held personally responsible. After every rain, out with the drag. The pay for man and team is 40 cents an hour; no shirking, no graft.

This is Dr. McCaskey's diagnosis of the road situation. If we wait in Pennsylvania till the state shall build us "good" roads the present generation will be too old to travel them. The logical thing to do is to do the best we can with our earth roads and our present amount of tax. Some of the macadam state and county built roads have not proved satisfactory. The cost for maintenance seems to be quite as much as we now spend on our present earth roads. Supervisor McCaskey is giving us a demonstration in spending our road tax, not to repair but to improve our highways. Another public spirited citizen of East Lampeter Township manifests enough interest in the better roads of the split drag to offer a prize to the drag driver who shall produce the best section of road this year.—W. F. McSparran, Furness, Pa.

Improving Country Roads.

(The following advice, by Prof. R. L. Parrish of the Colorado Agricultural College, though intended specifically for the far West, is worth considering in many eastern regions.)

When the farmers insist upon good roads, we shall have them, and not until that time will we enjoy pleasant and safe riding in the country.

How often, when driving along a lane in the country, we find the road first on one side, then on the other, with drain ditch taking its natural course, usually down the center of the lane. How much better it would be if the lane were only graded up in the center, with two good drain ditches down each side! The only evil door to roads is water. The first principle of construction is the means of keeping the road dry.

The soils of our state are capable of making excellent roads. The prairie soils contain more or less clay, and in all probability have a considerable shrinkage when dry—that is, when the road is hard and dry cracks will appear.

The ordinary country road is easily made, and two important factors make good roads: Keep the road well crowned and smooth, and provide good drain ditches. If these are attained, only good, hard, smooth roads will result.

It is sometimes necessary to pass the drain ditch from one side of the road to the other by means of a culvert. Do not make the culverts too small. Economy in culverts often appears on the wrong page of the ledger. In the construction of culverts, permanency is the principal item, and the culvert should be so placed as readily to take care of the water, and be placed at such a depth as not to cause a projection in the road surface.

THE CONSERVATION OF VITALITY

There is also a Committee of One Hundred on the National Health. In a report just issued under the hand of Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale the committee shows that, as measured by earning power, the vital assets of the nation are three to five times the physical. In respect to length of life and freedom from disease there is as great room for improvement in vital resources as in the protection accorded to natural wealth.

The item of longevity affords an especially impressive feature of the report. With the preliminary note that length of life increases wherever sanitary science and preventive medicine are applied, the statement is given that in Massachusetts, where alone comparative statistics are available, life is lengthening at the rate of fourteen years per century. This is half the German rate. In Europe the average duration of life has doubled in 350 years. In India it is stationary.

Consumption is the great foe to further lengthening of life in America. Yet the committee finds that three-quarters of the cases of tuberculosis could be avoided. By the rigid application of preventive science against the ninety different causes of death which may be classified, fifteen years at least could be added to the average of human life.

GAP IN THE LANGUAGE.

A lamentable gap in the English language and, indeed, in all languages, has been discovered by a correspondent of "The Lancet." "Why," asks M. J. Williams, "is there no way of described or classified a smell when you have said that it is horrid, and you are just as wide of the mark when you have said another smell is lovely. Consider the parallel of the classification of colors. When you describe a sunset you need not merely say that it is beautiful, you can go further, and say that it is red or yellow or purple, as the case may be.

"But, supposing you have been face to face with musk for a few minutes and want to describe it to your friends, you will find that, outside the province of expletives, you are helpless."

DECLINE OF VILLAGE LIFE.

In the records of present day conditions of an English village in Somersetshire, described by Miss M. F. Davis, it is stated that the population had dwindled down to 824 in 1901, which is less than half of the number seventy years earlier, and at present "if a cottage stands empty it is usually allowed to fall into ruin." Of the 220 households 57.7 per cent. are classified as agriculturists. It is further stated that the 165 cottages contain 689 rooms and are inhabited by 624 persons; presumably the latter figure is that of the present population, and if so the decrease since the last census is strikingly large. The main part of the land "is now laid down to grass," and of 3,056 acres in 1904 only 512 were returned as arable.

CREATING WHEAT FARMERS.

The high prices which our farmers have run up for wheat have stimulated the cultivation of the grain wherever it is possible to raise it. In 1909 Chili produced 19,000,000 bushels, and was encouraged by the results to sow many more acres this year. Experimental stations of the Chilean Government are distributing the best varieties of seeds among the farmers. If American farmers keep down their production to hold up prices they may find they had such a good thing that they tempted all the world into it and broke up the snags.

JUST A PLAIN COLLEGE.

President Stryker's intention of keeping Hamilton just a plain "college" where students may obtain "a simple classical education" will commend itself to college graduates of an older generation. These are old-fashioned ideals, but it is encouraging to have them adhered to at a time of the gradual extinction of the "small college," dear to Webster and to many others, through the craze for universities of wider aims but of less real educational usefulness.

STARS AND STRIPES MISSING.

Something of an argument for Senator Elkins's Representative Sulzer's and Lewis Nixon's plan to revive our merchant marine is a fact that during the two whole years of 1907 and 1908 not a single passenger or freight steamer showed the Stars and Stripes in a Chilean port.

BAD TASTE ARGUMENT.

We have quit objecting to anything on the ground that it is wrong. When we wish to be particularly unpleasant we say in a sneering way that a certain action or thing is in very bad taste. Pity Germany and England can't quit squabbling long enough to copy some of our modesty.

COMPARATIVE SPEED.

It takes five minutes to achieve a won't-take-a-dare marriage. The subsequent, and consequent, divorce requires at least thirty minutes.

MUG AND MEASURE THEM.

There ought to be Bertillon measurements for automobiles by which the criminal automobiles can be detected.

Sitting around the stove disputing the question of who found the North Pole will not contribute a single chunk toward the filling of the ice house.

Speaker Cannon explains that his test of party regularity in politics is co-operation and harmony and the caucus.

A Student Forum for DePauw

(By PROFESSOR A. R. MEAD.)

This article will attempt to suggest some ideas relative to the following topics: What a student forum is; Is it needed at DePauw? And lastly, a tentative plan for a student forum.

What is meant by a student forum? It is the student body, collectively, at work to better the conditions of student life to co-operate with the institution, and to encourage thinking and discussion of questions vitally related to student life. This implies that all students share in discussion and that all students meet regularly to conduct the discussions and to discharge other duties as may come before them. It implies a conscious, earnest attempt, by the students themselves, to reach all individuals composing the group, and to interest them in the ideas, customs and standards which are worthy of college men and women. Social unity and solidarity coupled with activity or function coupled with activity or function may be said to be the more remote aims: the creation of public opinion may be said to be the more immediate aims. Some sort of organization is necessary to exercise these functions, and such organization must be empowered with deliberative, legislative and executive or administrative functions. The third group of functions cannot be well exercised unless delegated to a smaller number than the whole group. The other two groups should be exercised by the whole student body, if the agency is to accomplish what it should.

Is a Student Forum needed at DePauw? There is but one answer—YES. It is needed so that individuals may more fully familiarize themselves with the meaning of a college and its work. It is needed so that each one may learn more of the rich and inspiring history of DePauw. Again, it is necessary so that a consciousness of the interests of the larger group may come to a greater development—in short to develop greater real democracy in our college life. There is also a need for students to begin to do things collectively—to cooperate—which is not the least of

PASTOR RUSSELL IS CHALLENGED

A Complete Answer to the Query, "Who Ordained Him?"

The Whole Subject Clarified For the Public Benefit—Clergy and Laity Unscriptural Terms.

(PASTOR RUSSELL)

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 17.—As always, Pastor Russell got the crowds today. We report his discourse on Ministerial Ordination and Titles. Very evidently it is a reply to an attack recently made upon him by a Mr. W. T. Ellis, field editor of the Religious Rambler. Ellis claims that Pastor Russell's ordination as Pastor is fraudulent. The address shows that Pastor Russell fully understands the situation. He fully justified his position before his vast audience and showed up the "Rambler" editor in the unenviable light of either being ignorant of the subjects discussed, or attempting to deceive the public. His text was, "Not of men, neither by man but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised Him from the dead" (Gal. 1:1). He said:

The time has come for telling the people what the Bible teaches respecting ordination to teach and preach. The doctrine of Apostolic Succession started in the second century A. D. The bishops claimed that they had the same authority that Jesus gave to the twelve Apostles. Upon this claim they ordained the inferior clergy.

This principle is wholly unscriptural. According to the Bible, the Church of Christ is not composed of two parts: clergy and laity. Jesus declared, "All ye are brethren; One is your Master, Christ." St. Paul shows that in the early Church the ministers were the servants of the flock. They were of the people, chosen by them by the stretching forth of the hand.

Many of the reformers coveted the titles accorded the Catholic clergy. They did not care to tell the congregation that their word was supreme, and that their ministers were merely its servants. Others, realizing that these titles were unscriptural, declined to use them; preferring to be called pastor. My Bible Student associates, knowing my objection to the title "Reverend," address me as Pastor. I am the elected Pastor of the Brooklyn Tabernacle congregation, and also of the London Tabernacle congregation, and I fall to see ground for criticism in this respect, nor do I attack Christian brethren who accept other and unscriptural titles.

Must Pastors Be Ordained?

Ordination is necessary to the office of pastor. The question is, What constitutes an ordination to preach amongst the people of God?

This question has received various answers. The Roman, Anglican and Greek Churches, claiming Apostolic Succession, declare that authorization to preach must come through their apostolic-bishops, and have not allowed Protestant ministers to enter their pulpits until the Episcopalians, about a year ago granted this concession. Of course, if their proposition were correct, I am just as much unordained as all other Protestant ministers—and no more so.

Each denomination at its beginning was opposed by all others; yet each taught that the clergy were separate from the laity. Only since the organization of the Evangelical Alliance (1846) have the different sects of Christendom acknowledged each other's ordinations. Each denomination makes use of such ceremonies as it deems proper. If, therefore, the congregation of Christian believers in Brooklyn and London ordain or appoint me as their pastor, it is their own choice what ceremonies, if any, shall accompany that ordination. Who can dispute this? No Protestant denomination, surely; for their own ordinations are on this very basis.

The subject of ordination seems to have fallen into confusion during the Dark Ages. St. Paul particularly emphasizes the fact that he did not receive his commission as preacher and Apostle of Christ from his brother Apostles, but by Divine authorization. This is the Scriptural principle underlying Divine Ordination to the ministry of Christ.

No denomination claims that the ordination of its ministers either made or kept them perfect. All admit that there have been sad failures amongst their ordained ministers. Neither would they claim that ordination has given their ministers superior discernment of Divine Truths. On the contrary, it has injured the clergy by making many of them domineering and lordly, contrary to the spirit and teachings of Christ and the Apostles; and the laity by leading them to conclude that merely secular matters should engage their attention.

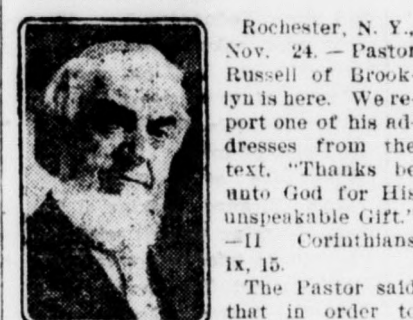

The True Ordination.

Finally the Pastor showed the true ordination to be the impartation of the Holy Spirit. Whoever receives this has God's authority to be His ambassador and mouthpiece. Such show the work of the Holy Spirit regenerating their minds and hearts, giving them insight into the Scriptures, and enabling them to be God's mouthpieces, ministers of His Truth.

JESUS IS GOD'S GIFT TO ALL HUMANITY

Salvation Is of God's Love, Not of Justice or Necessity.

Misunderstanding of What Constitutes the Divine Penalty For Sin Has Misled Us In Respect to Every Feature of God's Program For Our Recovery From the Penalty.

(PASTOR RUSSELL)

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Pastor Russell of Brooklyn is here. We report one of his addresses from the text, "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable Gift."—II Corinthians ix. 15.

The Pastor said that in order to appreciate the Scriptures on all subjects, we must handle the Word of God honestly. We must recognize that our Lord Jesus is one person and, the Father another person. The oneness between the Father and the Son is that declared by our Master Himself, saying that He and the Father are one in the same sense that He desires all of His disciples to be one—in mind, in purpose, in will, in effort. (John xvii, 21, 23.) Our Lord Jesus is God's unspeakable Gift.

The Scriptures declare that the Redeemer took the nature of men in order to redeem sinners; but that in Him there was no sin. Only a sinless one could give to God a Ransom for Adam, and thus redeem from destruction, not only Adam, but all his posterity, involved in sin and death through him. The speaker then showed that God set before our Lord a great joy, the inducement of which led Jesus to endure cheerfully the bitter experiences of His earthly life. This joy is intimated to have been: (1) His pleasure in doing the Father's will; (2) His privilege of "bringing many sons to glory"; the Church; (3) His pleasure and joy in being by and by the world's Redeemer, delivering them from the power of Satan, sin and death. "Wherefore," St. Paul says, "God hath highly exalted Him," far above "angels, principalities and powers, and every name that is named."

An Opposite Course From Satan's.

Pastor Russell then contrasted the course pursued by Satan with that followed by our Lord. Meditating ambitious designs, Satan found an opportunity in Eden. He beheld in our first parents a new order of beings, designed to bring into existence a race that would fill the earth. Satan essayed to be ruler or prince over this human creation; and by so doing, he not only became a rebel against God, but brought sin and death into the world.

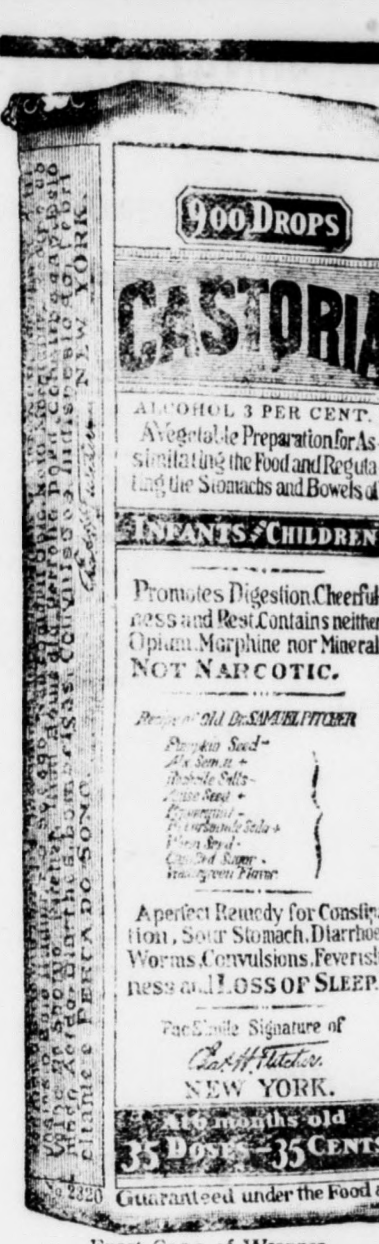

Our Lord Jesus pursued an opposite course, and demonstrated His loyalty and obedience. St. Paul intimates that although the Logos was much higher than was Lucifer, yet He was humble, and "mediated not a usurpation," as the Greek text declares. (Phil. ii. 6.) He thought not by robbery to be equal with God. On the contrary, our Lord willingly accepted the Divine proposal that He should be humbled to the human plane for a time, in order to carry out the Father's Plan.

To the Church, Jesus is God's unspeakable Gift. He is indeed a Gift to the whole world, unspeakable in value, but He is more to the Church than to the world. To His footstep followers, He is the "Captain of His Salvation," their Bridegroom, their "Elder Brother," their great High Priest. Through Him they are privileged to be the Royal Priesthood. Through the merit of the sacrifice of Christ, they are privileged to "present their bodies living sacrifices, holy, acceptable unto God."

The Pastor then said that Justice is the foundation of God's Throne. In the past, endeavors to harmonize Justice with our great Creator's dealings with humanity have involved us in difficulty. We were assured by the prominent creeds that God had knowingly brought mankind into existence under such conditions that the great majority would spend eternity in torture. We perceived no Justice in any such arrangement. But while desisting from criticizing the Creator, we could not indorse such a course, nor see it to be in harmony with the Divine regulations governing ourselves. If we are to love our enemies, should more be expected of fallen human beings than of our perfect Creator?

The Scriptures declare only the consecrated Church see the "lengths, breadths, heights and depths of the Love of God," which passeth understanding. This class alone is in any sense prepared to give thanks to God now for His unspeakable Gift. Their thanks go up, not only in words, but also in actions, which "speak louder than words." These thanks ascend as sweet incense to God.

By and by, "All the blind eyes will be opened and all the deaf ears will be unstopped." Then the whole world of mankind, including those awakened from the sleep of death during Messiah's reign, will be in condition to recognize God's unspeakable Gift and render thanks. When evil will doers shall have been destroyed, then every creature in Heaven, on earth and in the sea shall be heard saying, "Praise, glory, honor, dominion and might be unto Him that sitteth on the Throne, and to the Lamb, forever," through the unspeakable Gift.
